Financial Management, Utility Customer Services Division

Currently gas, water, sewer and refuse customers can select from a menu of options, including service turn ons and turn offs, 24 hours per day automated services, requests for gas field services, billing investigations, overdue bill assistance and other options. Staff is working to better understand the utility phone customer's experience and, to that end, have enhanced its analytical reporting system to determine phone customers' wait time. Customized reports will capture the customer's selection and experience in each of those fields, and will be used to reduce customer wait time.

In May, after months of effort, the manual processing of daily utility information provided to and received from the City's meter-reading vendor, will be replaced with electronic processing. As a result, more staff time will be available to read customers' meters.
